Mine Blast

All 22 Bodies Found

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. (AP)—Weary rescue crews, laboring deep inside a northern West Virginia coal mine Friday, recovered bodies of all 22 victims of Thursday night's gas-triggered explosion.

The last man was found in the same section where 11 other miners had been discovered earlier in the Comgas No. 3 mine of the Clifton Coal Company at Dohn, about 12 miles northwest of here.

ALL DUE OUT SOON

Only five of the bodies had been taken out of the mine by late Friday night but the others were expected to be brought outside by about midnight.

All 22 men were married. They had 41 children.

30 FREE UNBURIED

Thirty of their fellow workers fled unharmed after the blast cut loose.

It was violent. Clark Robey, a 34-year-old mechanic, said he was knocked off his feet although he was about a mile away from the blast centre.

BLEW ME DOWN

"The explosion came in two or three pulses and the dust started flying," Robey related. "It blew me down, even though I was pretty close to a mile away."

Robey and three other miners raced for the cage—the elevator by which the men are hoisted up and down the vertical shaft. ROCKS BLOWN UP

"You could hear rocks hitting the side of the cage where the air was blowing them up the shaft," he said.

About 9 a.m. EST Friday the first bodies were found. The first victims were in a main passageway about 14 miles from the foot of the mine shaft.

Some 30 minutes later a third body was located further down the corridor.

MEN SUFFOCATED

The bodies of the first victims were brought to the surface on a mine car. Officials said they believe the men suffocated. There was no evidence of fire. Rescue crews wearing gas masks then came upon 11 more bodies in rapid succession.

It was the worst disaster in West Virginia's sprawling mine fields since 23 men died in a similar accident in McDowell County, in southern West Virginia, on Oct. 27, 1958.

About 15 miles northeast of Morgantown, 381 miners died Dec. 6, 1961, in the worst mine disaster in the United States.

Europe:

Fewer Trigger Fingers

PARIS (Reuters)—The defence committee of the Western European Union Parliament Friday proposed creating of a NATO nuclear force with a limited number of fingers on the trigger.

After two days of closed-door discussion the committee—made up of legislators from Britain and the six European Common Market countries—proposed the idea in a series of recommendations to the full Parliament at its Paris meeting in June.

NUCLEAR COUNCIL

The committee said political control of the nuclear force should rest with a nuclear council on which all 15 NATO nations would be represented.

But the decision to open fire would be the responsibility of a "most restricted executive body" appointed by the nuclear council and agreed to by the participating countries.

TWO ELEMENTS

The committee proposed a NATO strategic force to be formed both from national elements of existing nuclear powers and of multilateral or mixed - manned elements.

The committee said this strategic force should be created in several phases.

Kings Aweigh!

The Daily Colonist King Fisherman contest starts today with all trout and bass one pound or more and all salmon five pounds or more eligible, whether or not caught by Colonist subscribers. But only Colonist subscribers may win the big merchandise prizes. Complete list of weigh-in stations appears on Page 4.

Frigate Wheel Stolen

Somebody stole HMCS Sussex's steering wheel yesterday and the Royal Canadian Navy thinks it was a prank.

Navy divers searched for the wheel without luck. RCMP was called in to assist navy investigations and the frigate's skipper, Cmdr. A. N. Turner, ordered the crew confined on board for the duration of the questioning—several hours.

The Sussevale was due to sail for a routine exercise today. "She will sail on time," a navy spokesman said last night.

"There is no clue yet," he said. "The navy feels it may have been a prank."

Garden Magic!

"As if by magic" is way M. V. Chesnut, garden columnist of The Daily Colonist, describes the way he obtained seeds for his third free offer. This time Mr. Chesnut is giving away free seeds for Star of the Valley, daisy-like flowers of South Africa. The offer is made in Sunday's edition.

The first offer was a new marigold, Piffner's Hybrid, and the second was a colorful California poppy called Mission Bell.

Veiled Defence of U.S.

Laos Premier Assails Reds

VIENTIANE (AP)—Premier

Prince Souvanna Phouma has assailed pro-Communist tactics as jeopardizing the future of Laos and made what appeared to be a defence of the United States.

Souvanna, a neutralist, spoke out Friday as U.S. warships were reported in Southern Asian waters ready for possible action in the Laotian crisis.

Without mentioning the U.S.,

Souvanna spoke of those nations that had sent "useless aid" and he denounced Red charges that Chinese nationalists and South Vietnamese are secretly in Laos. The Communists always link the U.S. with these charges. In Moscow Friday, U.S. State Undersecretary W. Averell Harriman talked with Premier Khrushchev for 3½ hours and the Russian leader again pledged Soviet support for the peace and neutrality of Laos. But Soviet news organs continued to carry charges that the U.S. provoked the Laotian crisis.

EXPREMIS ANXIETY In Bangkok, President Lyndon B. Johnson said Communist China joined European leader Gen. De Gaulle in a communique expressing "anxiety over the present situation in Laos." Liu is on a goodwill visit to Burma, bordering on northwestern Laos.

Charges that the U.S. is to blame for the Laotian crisis came from Red China, the Soviet Union, Communist North Viet Nam and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction of the Laotian government. The Pathet Lao is headed by Prince Souphanouvong, Souvanna's half-brother and a deputy premier.

Responding to them, Souvanna said in effect that the Communists themselves sought to disrupt Laos' neutrality and cast doubt on its impartiality.

He denied any foreign troops had joined forces with neutralist units of Gen. Kong Le on the unsheltered Plain des Jars of east-central Laos.

Later, the coalition cabinet sanctioned Souvanna's denunciation of the charges.

In his apparent veiled defence of the U.S. against Red charges,

Souvanna also referred to foreign aid given to Laos with no political strings attached and criticized Communist attempts to make it appear that the help was military in nature.

Souvanna was obviously referring to U.S. shipments of neutralists. The Communists have charged that the aid violated the Geneva agreement of last July.

FORCES SHIELDED

Trouble stirred again on the Plain des Jars, the small but strategic plateau 110 miles north of Vientiane. Pathet Lao forces shelled neutralist forces there for nine hours Thursday but made no effort to advance.

Souvanna is to fly today to the plain to resume cease-fire talks with Pathet Lao leaders.

Havana to Protest

BOMB RAID BLAMED ON U.S.

MIAMI (UPI)—The Cuban Radio blamed the United States Friday for an air attack on the outskirts of Havana and said the plane "took off from U.S. territory and returned home with absolute impunity."

The monitored radio broadcast confirmed the report of a free lance reporter-photographer in Washington that he accompanied three unidentified men on the raid Thursday night.

The broadcast said the Fidel Castro government planned a diplomatic protest of the attack.

"The U.S. government cannot evade its responsibility for this action," the broadcast said.

It said the Cuban government "denounces" the fact that a report of the attack at a press conference "in the U.S. capital itself" failed to bring any statement from the U.S. government.

The state department had taken a skeptical view of the report of the raid by reporter-photographer Alexander Rortke, who said two other Americans and a Cuban were in the two-engine plane when it dropped explosives aimed at oil refineries on the outskirts of Havana.

REPORT FAILED

Both Rortke and the radio report from Cuba said the attack failed to do any serious damage and that the bombs dropped failed to explode.

"Immediately afterward, the plane headed in the same direction from which it came," the Cuban radio said.

It called the raid a "criminal action," and said it demonstrated that the "published and announced attitudes of the U.S. government apparently aimed at restricting the activities of the counter-revolutionary pirates are being defied in an inexplicable manner."

AGAINST PIRATES

"If the U.S. government wants world public opinion to seriously believe its announcements against the pirates, it will have to adopt measures to prevent events such as which occurred last night," the Cuban broadcast said.

BULLETIN

A man suffered a cut throat in an accident on Richmond Road near Taylor early today when the car he was driving hit a car parked on the east side of the street and was torn struck by another proceeding north on Richmond. The man's name was not known at press time.

Cubans Pester U.S. Cutter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two

Cuban gunboats stalked back and forth across the bow of a U.S. Coast Guard cutter in the Florida Straits Friday and U.S. jet fighters were rushed to the scene, the defense department announced. It said there was no shooting.

The Coast Guard cutter, designated ship No. 9214, was about 10 miles northeast of Havana investigating a report that a small boat was in distress with five persons aboard. It disappeared.

Touring Russia

Cuban Premier Castro arrived in Murnansk Friday to begin a visit to Soviet Union. Castro was greeted by first deputy premier Anastas Mikoyan. Premier Khrushchev, who invited Castro to Russia was not on hand.

found an empty and drifting boat.

The incident was in international waters.

The Pentagon issued this statement.

"Shortly after 3 p.m., this afternoon, two Cuban gunboats engaged in manoeuvres near a United States Coast Guard cutter 30 miles northeast of Havana. The cutter reported the event and two F4U aircraft were scrambled from Key West. When the aircraft reached the scene, the manoeuvres were discontinued."

In B.C. Saddle

Fulton Puts Tories On Campaign Basis

VANCOUVER (CP)—The federal election over, Davis Fulton has started off on another campaign.

"The party is going on a campaign basis now," the leader of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Party and former justice and public works minister said Friday.

The man who deliberately chose to lead a party that has not been represented in the legislature for years said his executive would complete plans today for provincial reorganization.

He said the party plans to have candidates nominated for the next provincial election in all 32 constituencies within a year and at least 27 candidates in the next six months.

UNTIL DEATH

By June 1 it was planned to have between six and 10 candidates named, including one in Columbia, represented by Social Creditor Orr Newton until his death this year.

Mr. Fulton, who will not run in Columbia himself, said a byelection should be called before the next session of the legislature.

Asked why he would not run in Columbia, probably the first opportunity for him to gain a seat in the legislature, Mr. Fulton said:

WAS DECIDED

"My job is to organize the party to get it ready for the next general election."

He said he has decided on which constituency he wishes to represent but will make an announcement until he visits the area.

'Cat' Hunt Backfires

PARIS (UPI)—A policeman, a civilian and a police dog were wounded Friday night when a gendarme tripped and accidentally fired his automatic rifle during a search for a "ferocious" escaped circus panther.

But Pierre the Panther has accounted for only one wounded himself in 15 hours of freedom. He attacked an Algerian worker.

Dealer's 200,000 Books Piled High in Streets

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (UPI)—The state asked book dealer John Lindmark to move his 200,000 volume collection and make way for a highway, but he refused. So the state is doing the job for him.

The task of moving the books, valued by Lindmark at $2,000,000, is expected to take 15 men 10 days. When they are finished the books will be stacked three feet high along three blocks of this Dutchess County city about 75 miles north of New York.

"Lindmark was served with an eviction notice two weeks ago," city marshal Herman Soloway said Thursday. "He refused to do anything so we began removing the books."

The controversy began three years ago when New York State set plans for a new north-south arterial here. State officials said they had trouble negotiating with Lindmark and the case finally was settled in the courts. The eviction notice was signed a year ago but held up while officials tried to convince Lindmark to move. The book dealer claimed he could not afford to move the books and had no place to move them.

"We're piling the books into the scoop of a bulldozer and taking them outside," Soloway said. "We've built stalls about three feet high along the sidewalk so they can be stacked. But Lindmark apparently doesn't plan to do anything about them." The city marshal said some people have been sneaking off with the books.

"When I leave at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, they're all his responsibility," he said. "The police are maintaining their regular patrols but nothing else. It is raining and it sure looks like it, all those books are going to be ruined."

Lindmark said he heard people were taking the books.

"But I can't do anything about it," he said. "It's the state's problem. I'm not going to sell them."

Two of 23 Killed As Fishboat Sinks

MIAMI—The 36-foot fishing boat Jerry Mar with at least 23 persons aboard struck a shoal and sank off Bimini in the Bahamas Islands, U.S. Coast Guard today.

At least two persons were rescued and three private boats were searching for other possible survivors in the waters about 60 miles east of Miami, the Coast Guard said. Two persons were known to have been killed in the mishap.

The accident occurred around 10:30 p.m. Friday. The victims were identified by the Coast Guard as Dr. Roland Phillips and Toy Perle Oberdorf, both believed to be from Miami.

Your Good Health

Weight Will Provide Cholesterol Tipoff

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband and I are great lovers of ice cream. In summer we eat approximately two gallons a week. Friends have told me that a great deal of ice cream can cause too much cholesterol in the blood, thereby resulting in heart attacks. What is your opinion?—Mrs. I. M. H.

Personally I think that the cholesterol furor has gotten somewhat out of hand. However, the evidence seems to be valid that fatty substances (cholesterol in one) are found in the plaques for gloopy deposits which form on or in the linings of our arteries.

PARTIAL BLOCK

Over the years, these deposits gradually increase, faster in some of us, slower in others. This is called atherosclerosis, or thickening, and hence partial obstructing, of the arteries.

I wouldn't try to argue that the problem doesn't have some bearing on heart attacks. It builds up a condition in which some portion of the coronary (heart) arteries can more easily become clogged and cause a heart attack.

But now let's look at the problem another way. The quantity of fat we eat can influence the amount deposited in the arteries—less the amount we learn up in energy. Therefore I can't see much point in being too concerned over cholesterol (or other fats) in the diet if we are doing some of the other important things, like getting regular exercise.

I'd say the bathroom scale will give you a good answer. If you are overweight, cut down on the ice cream—and other things.

If you are slim, trim and active, go ahead the way you are.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the proper weight for a woman 31 years old, five feet, 5 inches tall?—Mrs. R.M.L.

Depending on natural build (light or heavy bone structure) somewhere between 115 and 125.

Note to Mrs. D.M.L.: Those small blue veins, or "spider veins," are being successfully removed by some surgeons using an electric needle to obliterate them. It's a laborious process, but it works.

RCAF Beats Blaze

COLD LAKE, Alta. (CP)—Firefighters confined a blaze in an industrial building at a U.S. Strategic Air Command refueling station at RCAF Cold Lake Friday afternoon. No one was hurt.

Li-Chai, W. B. Becklund, officer in charge of the 358th air base squadron, said the blaze of unknown origin was "well contained" and did not present a danger to other facilities.

He said the building, apart from others at the refueling station, housed vehicles and supplies and "all but the small stuff" was saved.

Month's Bonus: $80 Per Man

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly 4,000 employees of the Kaiser Steel Corporation will get a bonus of about $80 a man or some 45 cents an hour in the first monthly cost-savings distribution under Kaiser's unique new labor plan.

Dozen Votes Settled Dozen Elections

By FRASER MacDOUGALL
OTTAWA (CP)—Paul Martin is the 12th man to win election to Canada's House of Commons by a one-vote margin. He is the second to do so in this century.

Thursday night, Mr. Martin, former Conservative minister of mines and technical surveys, was announced as the winner of Pontiac-Temiskamingue in the April 8 election.

He got his one-vote edge from the constituency returning officer, J. Denzil Moodie of Campbell's Bay, Que., who cast the deciding ballot when a judicial recount ended in a tie between Mr. Martin and his Liberal opponent, Paul O'Grady.

It was the second time since Confederation in 1867 that a member's election was decided on a federal returning officer's tie-breaking vote after a recount.

Election records show that returning officers have cast four deciding votes in federal elections but only twice following a recount—in Pontiac-Temiskamingue Thursday and in the former Quebec constituency of Joliette in 1937. The Joliette returning officer cast two tie-breakers in the same election, first after his official count and again, decisively, after the recount.

Two other times returning officers cast tie-breaking votes in Quebec constituencies at the completion of their own official counts, but results were subsequently altered by recounts so the tie-breakers were really unnecessary.

This happened in the former constituency of Brum's in 1901, where the post-recount edge was three votes, and in Chapleau in 1935, where the count before a judge gave the winner an 11-vote margin.

The last one-vote margin was in Yamaska, Quebec, now part of Nicolet-Yamaska, in 1936 when a Liberal won by one vote.

Counting Pontiac-Temiskamingue, Conservatives have won seven of the one-vote decisions, Liberals five.

Pipeline Paying Off

By HARRY YOUNG
Columnist Business Editor

An initial dividend was announced Friday by Western Pacific Products and Crude Oil Pipe Line Co. It will pay 25 cents a share on May 31, and the directors state they hope to continue such payments on a quarterly basis.

Western Pacific was built two years ago to bring B.C. crude oil and petroleum products from the B.C. Peace River area to the Vancouver refinery market. It has recently been delivering over 20,000 barrels a day.

MACMILLAN RESULTS

First quarter of 1963 was not quite as good for Macmillan, Hissel and Powell River as the corresponding quarter of 1962, but chairman J. V. Cline says the prospects for the rest of the year are all right.

Net profit was $8,239,000 (40 cents a share) against $6,700,000 (42 cents) a year ago. Sales were also down slightly at $72,500,000 from $72,700,000.

TURNED FURTHER

Mr. Cline said profits were down despite a rise in dollar discount from 5 per cent to 7 1/2 per cent.

Newspaper earnings were lower owing to drop in advertising, reduction in publishers' inventories, and the start up of a new U.S. newspaper mill in the Pacific Northwest.

Dividend First

But lumber and plywood sales increased in volume and plywood prices were stronger than a year ago. Pulp and coarse paper sales were favorable.

NON-RECURRING COSTS

Mr. Cline explained non-recurring costs affected the net profit for the first 1963 quarter.

Mr. Cline said rising housing starts in Canada and the U.S. indicated the economies in both countries were improving.

OIL CLIMAX PAST

The price determination in the Canadian petroleum industry may have reached its climax in the last quarter of 1962, according to W. O. Twiss, president of Imperial Oil Ltd.

But he told the annual meeting Friday that although there had been significant increase in sales volume, the effect of the price-cost squeeze had not yet been completely offset.

In the first quarter of 1963, Imperial Oil made a net profit of $19,400,000 (61 cents a share) compared with $19,600,000 (62 cents) in the first quarter of 1962.

TARIFF REFUSED

The U.S. whiskey industry has failed in its efforts to have the tariffs increased on imports of Canadian whiskey.

The U.S. Tariff Commission found the main reason for the increased consumption of Canadian whiskey was not tariff concessions but a consumer preference for imported spirits, based on taste and brand prestige.

SHARP INCREASE

Noranda Mines earned 69 cents a share in the first quarter of 1963, against earnings of 29 cents in the corresponding period of 1962.

SUCCEEDS HUSBAND

Mrs. Lois Achason of Seattle has been named president of Black Ball Transport Service and Black Ball Freight Inc., succeeding her late husband, Robert J. Achason.

LOSS FOR AIRLINE

Pacific Western Airlines had a net loss of $317,680 in 1962, compared with a profit of $10,363 in 1961. R. H. Laidman, president, said the continuing strike of two unions had only a slight effect on the firm's revenue.

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—Argentine police have arrested three Czechoslovaks and two Argentinians alleged to be working for an economic spying ring.

B.C. Cool To Road

A new road link between B.C. and Alberta, proposed by Alberta officials, found little enthusiasm among provincial highways department officials yesterday.

A spokesman said the road would probably be an expensive to build as the Rogers Pass highway—$66,866,000.

Whisky Rough Stuff for Boy

Courtroom Parade

An 18-year-old boy was fined $20 and told he would have plenty of time to start drinking by Magistrate William Oetler—in city magistrate's court Friday.

W. Steele, 333 Admirals Road, entered a plea of guilty on a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor.

"Whisky is pretty rough stuff for a boy of 18 isn't it?" asked Magistrate William Oetler. "You really have plenty of time to start drinking."

In Oak Bay magistrate's court, Margaret Levant, 427 Linden, was given a suspended sentence and bound over on a $250 bond to keep the peace and be of good behavior. She was charged with obtaining goods through false pretences.

Magistrate Oetler said he had studied the woman's probation report and found her to be a decent person. "It is obvious you did this while you were under the influence of something. There is no purpose in my asking you to abstain from alcohol at your age. You will have to do that yourself."

Before sentence was passed, defence counsel Allen Cuffie pointed out his client had been in custody for six weeks. This Magistrate Oetler said had probably given the accused time to think.

Roads Taking Greater Toll

Road accidents are taking a greater toll of life this year than they did last year, Motor Vehicles superintendent George Lindsay said last night.

"Up to April 24 this year we had 58 deaths on the road," he said. "And we expect more before the end of the month. Up to the end of April, 1962, there were 53 deaths."

and oratorio winner, Marion Matcham is at far right. Sole male competitor was Allan Husband who had won both male oratorio and operatic classes earlier in week.

Rose Bowl Goes To Merna Jenkin

By BERT BINNY

The days of increasing speculation and even outright predictions as to who might win the top singing award in the Music Festival ended last night.

enter Dr. Sydney Mordkhai, after close competition of a very high standard from three other singers.

Miss Jenkin, actually a veteran of performances on a Young Artists' tour a year or so back, gained the adjudicator's nod over mezzo-soprano Pamela Paver who had previously won the operatic class, Marion Matcham, successful Thursday evening in the female oratorio competition, and Allan Husband, who took both the operatic and oratorio classes in the male division.

There was a very large audience at Central Junior High school auditorium for the honor concert which concluded with the Rose Bowl competition.

This was the only competitive event. Unfortunately no pianist qualified this year for the City of Victoria Medalion. Nevertheless, enthusiastic response greeted all the items selected from classes heard during the past week.

More Books in '63

School Libraries Get $12,000 Boost

More than $12,000 will be spent in improvement of school library standards during 1963, 1964, the allotment for book buying was one dollar per pupil. This has now risen to $2.50 per pupil.

percentage of the money being spent on education. Prior to 1963, the allotment for book buying was one dollar per pupil. This has now risen to $2.50 per pupil.

Mr. Brown said improvement of standards refers to the board's plan to bring the number of books in school libraries up to a level of at least six books per student.

He said this money would also be used to catalogue books now in school libraries so that students would get maximum benefit from the supply now at their disposal.

SIMPLE METHOD
The board has adopted a simple method of cataloguing which precludes any knowledge of complicated library systems and makes the hiring of librarians unnecessary, said Mr. Brown.

"We are also getting rid of obsolete books," he said. "Two members of the board go to the schools ahead of the team of four cataloguers to get rid of out-of-date books. No encyclopedia more than 10 years old will be kept."

He said the purchase of books has taken an ever higher

Flowers Up On June 8

First flower baskets will probably go up on downtown streets June 8, parish administrator W. H. Warren said Friday. Annual job of preparing the 550 floral displays that have become Victoria's trademark has already begun in the Beacon Hill Park nursery.

King Fisherman Home

Ride in a Tokyo Taxicab Hair-Raising

Flying in a jetliner is wonderful but riding in a Tokyo taxi is a hair-raising experience, says Ed Lohbrunner, husband of King Fisherman winner Mrs. Ethel Lohbrunner, just back from a Japan trip by Canadian Pacific Airlines.

"Those cab drivers dodge traffic with not more than half an inch to spare—it's incredible how skillful they are, and you see fewer dented fenders than here in Canada," Mr. Lohbrunner said.

The Lohbrunners have just returned from their four-week, adventure-filled King Fisherman trip to Japan after Canadian Pacific Airlines DC8 jetliners whispered them across the Pacific and back again, and the New Orient Express travel agency acquired them around Japan.

(This year's King Fisherman Contest, which is now under way, offers a Canadian Pacific Airlines trip to Europe for the grand hidden weight winner and partner.)

"We took as if we were floating over a big, level featherbed. It is like fairyland at 39,000 feet altitude," Mr. Lohbrunner said.

"The whole flight was pretty fantastic. There's no vibration. We had a Chinese-Canadian stewardess looking after us on the way to Japan, and a Japanese-Canadian stewardess on the way back—they were wonderful."

"There's not much more noise in the jet than our fridge at home makes," Mrs. Lohbrunner said. "What struck me was how little snow there was on the Aleutians."

As for Japan, Mr. Lohbrunner was filled with superlatives.

"They can make a garden out of anything," said the keen gardener who runs Lakewick Gardens on Lohbrunner Road.

Set Clocks Ahead Tonight

Tonight is the night least loved in all the year by celebrants who like to sleep it off and prosomers who like to start their weekend on time.

Daylight saving time begins early Sunday morning.

That means that when you go to bed tonight, you must set your clock

AHEAD one hour—and lose one hour of wonderful, comforting, soothing, blissful sleep.

But in return for your lost hour's sleep tonight, you get an extra hour of sunlight every evening all summer.

And there's at least one thing you don't have to worry about. B.C. government ferries operate on the time generally in effect and will set their clocks ahead one hour along with everyone else.

Ferry schedules, in other words, remain absolutely unchanged in terms of local time. Changeover to summer schedules, incidentally, will be May 17.

Portable Vacuum Cleaner

Litter Solution Possible Here

A solution may have been found for the perennial problem of keeping downtown streets free of litter.

City engineer James Garnett said he will recommend to public works committee Monday the city purchase a portable vacuum cleaner for use on sidewalks and in civic parking garages.

The heavy duty cleaner manufactured in Canada under the name "litter-vac" is claimed to be able to pick up paper and cardboard and even gravel "as fast as a man can walk," he said.

The two-wheeled machine is powered by a three horsepower Briggs and Stratton motor and is fitted with a bag having an 11 cubic foot capacity. It costs between $400 and $500.

Mr. Garnett said he will ask if electric power is available in another model or failing that if a silencer can be fitted to the engine to cut down noise.

NIGHT USE
This facet of operation is particularly important because the machine, if it is purchased, would be used at night most of the time.

The litter problem has caused many headaches at city hall in recent years and despite a lengthy search no suitable cleaning machine was turned up until the latest development.

News of the machine was received at city hall from two quarters almost simultaneously.

Material describing the Canadian machine was given to Mr. Garnett Friday by Lloyd Davis, chairman of the retail merchants group of the Chamber of Commerce.

Car Collection Valued At $100,000

More than $100,000 worth of cars went on display at the Quarter-Mile's Autorama at the Esquimalt Sports Centre last night.

The cars, hand built or rebuilt by their owners, represent thousands of hours of work, and many of them will never be driven by their owners.

One of the show's chief attractions is the Jewel, built by Dave Whitehead of Victoria. It used to be a 1929 Ford Model

A roadster, but now it is a sleekly beautiful collection of finely-moulded parts from a variety of makes and years of cars.

It is powered by a 1948 Mercury engine; it has a 1939 transmission, a 1940 Ford radiator, 1948 Hillman steering and an Impala wheel.

Dave, who won the sweepstakes championship at the Grand National Roadster Show at Oakland, Calif., this spring, values the car at $4,900.

VANCOUVER DRAGSTERS

Another striking addition to the show is a dragster built by three Vancouver men, Jack Williams, Rick Norden and Ron Lowe.

This beauty turns out 650 horsepower and will accelerate from zero to 160 miles per hour in 9.1 seconds.

They spend three years perfecting the car, and expect to better their acceleration mark in Arlington, Wash. on Sunday, at the National Hot Rod Association record meet.

These are only a few of the cars at Autorama, which continues until next Saturday night.

Anyone Can Attend Dinner for Archie

Invitations will not be necessary to attend a testimonial dinner planned for coach Archie McKinnon in the Empress Hotel, May 8.

A spokesman for the Gyro Club of Victoria, sponsors of the dinner, said yesterday the dinner is open to all of Archie's friends, both men and women.

Tickets for the dinner can be picked up at the desk of the YMCA. People wishing to attend are urged to pick up their tickets soon though as seating is limited, the spokesman said.

Unless Lot Dispute Settled

City Faces Legal Action

The city faces possibility of legal action if a meeting scheduled for Monday doesn't lead to settlement on compensation for two lots expropriated last April to create the site of the View Street parking building.

Appraisers for the city and former joint owners of the property will attend the meeting, along with legal counsel for both sides.

Meanwhile, writes for B.C. Supreme Court action and notification by letter of intention to launch arbitration proceedings were received at city hall shortly before the Friday deadline for compensation proceedings.

A claim on behalf of all owners of the property for a total of $175,000 in compensation resulted in a counter-offer by the city of $117,150 made last November.

Negotiations for settlement have continued sporadically since the expropriation was carried out last April 28.

Work Begins Soon On Sidney Building

Construction of a new public building is expected to begin soon in Sidney, Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer for the Greater Victoria Metro Health Board, said last night.

He said architects currently are working on plans for the new building which is to include Sidney quarters for the board, as well as premises for the village commission, the RCMP, and the Sidney waterworks administration.

It is hoped to have the building open by the beginning of next year, he said.

The health board's share of the building is to cost $36,000. Kinsmen are looking after local raising of money for the health centre, which also will receive provincial and federal grants.

'Floated' in Jetliner

despite protests from the Victoria couple.

The Lohbrunners arrived in Japan in time to see the famous cherry blossom festival.

"The blossoms are of a uniform, pale pink all over Japan," said Mr. Lohbrunner. "And actually, they are only out for two days, but if you carefully time your visits, you can follow the different blossom periods."

The Lohbrunners are looking forward to making full use of their imported Japanese rock garden plants, and to realize some ideas they scooped up about Japanese landscape gardening.

"The Japanese are very helpful and seem to be honest. We left our blue-and-white CPA flight bag on a busy railway station platform for 15 minutes, and when we ran back, there it was, among a huge throng of rushing commuters."

Mr. Lohbrunner told of a Japanese man of whom he asked directions to a train. It turned out the Lohbrunners were at the wrong station.

The Japanese herded the Lohbrunners into a taxi, came along to see them to their train in the other station, and then returned in the cab, paying the entire fare himself.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am getting close to 12 years old so I consider myself almost a teen-ager.

What do you think about freedom of speech for us? I don't mean saying adults. I mean just talking back to parents when we don't happen to agree with them.

Don't you think kids ought to have their say when an argument comes up? Or do you think they should just sit there and not answer back with anything just because the other person happens to have lived on this earth about 28 years longer?

Please give us an answer right away because a lot of us kids are having this problem lately.—BUGGED.

Dear Bugged: Thanks for writing. A lot of parents are having this problem, too.

In order to answer properly, I'd have to know what you consider "answering back" and how it is different from "mum-bug."

Kids should be allowed to present their side of the story, but having presented it they should accept the decision of "that person who just happens to have lived on this earth about 28 years longer."

Dear Ann Landers: I take violent exception to the advice you gave the landlady who complained because two working girls entertained male company in their apartment anywhere from 2 a.m. to 7 a.m.

You said, "As long as the tenants pay their rent, keep the property in good condition and refrain from disturbing the neighbors the landlady has no right to complain about their morals."

I have news for you. The landlady has a right to complain if the tenants are turning her property into a brothel.

I've rented apartments for a long time and I try to be careful. But it's impossible to judge people by looking at them. I've had neighbors who go on hunting and fishing trips at dawn tell me they see men smoking out of my apartment house at 4 and 5 a.m. Of course I give these girls notice but too often I get the same kind in their place.

You don't help any by telling these budding Chopatras it's O.K. so long as they don't disturb the neighbors. Thanks for nothing.—E.C.W.

Dear E.C.W.: No landlady should permit her apartment house to be turned into a brothel. And it requires no genius to figure out that girls who have a steady stream of male visitors at odd hours are not likely to be entertaining socially.

My advice pertained to working girls. They should not have to account to the landlady for their visitors.

Why don't you insist on references if you have so much trouble?

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from "Loose Bolt" bolted loose a few memories for me. I, too, had romantic fantasies about my "lost love." For 17 years I moaned around when I heard "our song." I kept visualizing our life together—as it might have been had we married.

Then the alumni association announced its big reunion. His name appeared on the roster as one who would be in town for it—with his wife and two children!

My heart leaped! I talked it over with my husband and we agreed to invite the old boy friend, his wife and children to stay in our home. I scrubbed, polished, waxed shined and ran myself to a frazzle for 10 days straight.

When they arrived I almost went through the floor. My poetrywriting dream—a boat had turned into a bald-headed, pouchy, stuffy old bore. He bowed. His children like a tyrant and his wife covered in the corner when he looked at her.

My husband and I roared with laughter when they left. I had been living with a dream for 17 years. How nice to be awake!—SQUARED AWAY.

Dear Squared: And more over you got your house cleaning done.

raise your

A toast to Mr. Dior, who has helped make the world aware that all does not have to be as it seems to turn out a lovely lady. A bow here, an A-ligne there, and...voilà! Another beautiful creature tiptoes into the evening. Furthermore, she's wearing glasses, not only because her vision requires it, but also because her fashion-designed frames highlight her appearance. Frames imported from France, Italy, and the U.S. are big news every spring. Many of Mr. Dior's admirers have several—one for every kind of seeing. A toast to them, too!

Bread Is Specialty of the House

By JILL ARLETT

Do you switch from one bakery to another?

I find that after a few weeks of going to the same bakery I'm due for a change of taste.

It's not that I don't like my baker's pastries anymore, but it's just fun to see what the other Victoria chefs dream up from time to time.

No doubt you do the same thing.

In that case, you should drop into the bakery I visited yesterday.

Apart from their always-good selection of Danish fancy pastries and cakes, they've got just about the best old-fashioned fluted apple pie in town.

The pastry is flakey and literally melts in your mouth.

the apple is superbly flavored and the price alone will make you want to come back for more.

Large pies are 50 cents each and small are 25 cents.

Christening At Ganges

GANGES—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Parker, Duncan, was baptized in Our Lady of Grace Church, Ganges, following Easter Sunday Mass. Rev. Father Mudge bestowed the names of Gerald Sean upon the baby, who had as his godparents his uncle and aunt, Sally and Stephen Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker with Gerald Sean and his brother, Glenn, returned to Duncan after spending the weekend with Mrs. Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Alexander, Ganges Hill.

Flavors include raisin, blueberry, lemon and cherry. Almost a meal in itself are their crispy sugared apple turnovers—just five cents each.

To give you some idea of their very reasonable prices, meringue shells are 25 cents a dozen, 40 cents will buy you 12 of the most date-filled bran muffins you'll find anywhere, and you can decorate your own cake if you purchase their sponge cake, at only 20 cents.

Although his pastries are excellent, the real specialty of this bakery is bread. There's everything from four kinds of dinner rolls and breadsticks to real home-made goodness Danish bread.

Dinner rolls are all 35 cents a dozen and you can choose from sesame rolls, plain, puppy seed or whole wheat. Breadsticks are 25 cents a dozen and there are huge plastic bags full of Melba Toast for 25 cents.

Beat Tax —But Legally

Need for keeping complete records to assist in obtaining a true picture for estate, income and gift tax purposes, especially where there is joint property, was stressed by Gordon E. Empey, manager of the local branch of the National Trust Company, when he spoke to Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, on Monday evening.

Mr. Empey added that if such records are kept by the individuals concerned, there is a saving in time and expense at time of death and also ensures that the wishes of a deceased person can be carried out.

The speaker described in detail differences between the Federal Estate Tax and its predecessor, the Dominion Succession Duty Act.

He told of amendments to the Gift Tax Act, made in 1961, that introduced the once in a lifetime gift and he spoke briefly of various sections of the income tax, and the recently reactivated British Columbia succession duty Act.

"If we can arrange our affairs legally to avoid tax we are at liberty to do so," he explained. Then he warned that while there are loopholes in taxation laws that are always being searched for by ingenious people, the tax department is just as busily plugging these loopholes where they come to light.

Mr. Empey was introduced by Mrs. David (Florence) Barlow and thanked by Miss Marjorie Press. Club president Miss Ruth Adams presided at the dinner meeting and special guests included Mrs. T. W. (Georgy) Simpson and Miss Muriel Campbell, president and vice-president of the newly formed Oak Bay Business and Professional Women's Club.

Welcomed as new members were Mrs. Eileen Russell, Mrs. Wanda Sinclair, Mrs. Ruby Allen, Miss Mary Nunn and Miss Margaret Ryall.

French Society Girls Don't Work as Models

By NOEL MARTIN

PARIS (TNT) — Modelling clothes or a career in show business are "taboo" jobs for nice girls of the French high society.

To get the low-down on what is "in" and what is "out" with the young social set in Paris, I had a chat with Roselyne Achille Foud, one of this season's most successful debutantes.

Roselyne, who has just celebrated her 19th birthday with a dinner party for her friends at Mamma's, is slim, raven-haired and pretty. She also has all the other qualities which help the success of a debutante. Her family is titled and wealthy and the fact that her great-grandfather was finance minister under Napoleon III adds to her prestige.

Since it is now fashionable for society girls to take a job, Miss Foud is working as an assistant to Paris fashion designer Miguel Ferrera who himself is married to a socialite, the Irish-born former Connaught Guards.

"Many of my friends are working in Paris fashion houses," Roselyne told me. "Others are air hostesses. It's now considered smart to have a job, except being a mannequin or be connected with show business. Those jobs are 'mal vu' (frowned upon)."

"After finishing school I got bored staying at home," Roselyne explained, adding that it is also fun to buy clothes with money she earns.

Roselyne told me she needs about five ball gowns, made for her at Ferrera's. During one season in Paris there are four or five gala occasions, charity balls and parties at embassies calling for formal clothes. Then there are the cocktail parties and dances, one or two a week, to which the girls wear short skirts, often black dresses, or dressy Chanel-style suits.

When Roselyne sees her friends socially, at her home or theirs, the girls wear suits or sweaters and skirt outfits but never slacks in Paris. Except for active sports or in the country, Roselyne said, it's not considered chic to wear pants.

Among the active sports, horseback riding, hunting, skiing in summer are the fashionable sports now for French debutantes. To watch football or hockey games is "out," but to attend polo matches, the favorite sport of the debutantes' young escorts, is very much "in."

French society girls, according to Miss Foud, do not "go steady" with boys. In her own group are about 13 boys and girls who meet at all big balls and parties. At the big balls the parents usually attend as chaperons, but since she is 18, Roselyne is allowed to go out alone in the evening as long as she is in a group and her parents know where she is.

Like most girls of her age, Roselyne dreams of getting married and having children. But for the moment she's proud to be a working girl from 8.30 a.m. to 7 p.m. She will spend her summer holidays on Mallorca, one of the Balearic Isles, where her parents have a villa.

Garden Notes

Don't Pollinate Cukes

By M. V. CHENUT, PERM

BITTER CUCUMBERS (K.E.L. Victoria)—The long greenhouse and frame cucumbers should never be pollinated except for seed production, for a pollinated blossom will produce bitter fruits with a swollen seed cavity at one end. It is customary, in the commercial growing of long cucumbers, to pick off all the male blossoms as they form, and to screen the doors and ventilators to exclude insects.

Outdoor cucumbers, on the other hand, must be pollinated in order to form fruit. Anise are good pollinators, carrying the pollen from male blossoms to the females. In growing the new all-female Sparrow Dawn pickling cucumber, it is necessary to grow another variety nearby to provide male blossoms.

The most common cause of bitterness in outdoor cucumbers is too much sun. For best flavor, grow in partial or dappled shade.

MAGNOLIA SLIPS (N.J., Brentwood Bay)—I am sorry to be so late in answering your question, but you failed to sign your name to your letter. It is never safe to assume your question will be discussed in this column, for my space is often booked up three and four weeks in advance; moreover, I must pick and choose which problems are to appear in print to avoid too much repetition. Always sign your name so I can answer by mail, or better still, enclose a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

I'm afraid I can't hold out any hope your Magnolia prunings will root in a jar of water, nor would an earth mixture, peat moss or vermiculite help much. Cuttings of Magnolia are extremely hard to root even under ideal conditions, and in practice these shrubs are nearly always propagated by seeds, layering or grafting.

LIME AND FERTILIZER (R.F. McK., Victoria)—It is wasteful to mix lime with commercial fertilizer or lime with manure, as the lime acts to release gaseous ammonia which is lost to the atmosphere. With manure especially, a dressing of lime will be followed immediately by a strong smell of ammonia in the air.

The two can be combined in the soil, for in this case the soil tends to re-absorb the released ammonia before it is lost.

I am not altogether happy, though, over your proposal to lime your potato plot, for lime favors the development of scabby potatoes. It is always best to plant potatoes on ground which was limed the previous year for the preceding crop. Potatoes require a high content of humus in the soil and will usually do much better with bulky organic manures plus fertilizer than with fertilizer alone.

FLOWER SHOW—The Cadboro Bay Flower Show opens its doors at 2 p.m. today in St. George's Parish Hall. Better take along a pocketful of money, for they have bargains galore in surplus plants and gadgets at this "biggest little show on Vancouver Island." They serve a pretty good tea, too.

The Little World of SHEILAH GRAHAM

Three Seeking Pulver Role

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Josh Logan tested Pat Boone, Robert Walker and Mark Goddard, for the lead in Ensign Pulver. Jack Lemmon played the enigma in Mr. Roberts, and it made a star of him. Pulver will first be a film, then a TV series. So the competition is keen.

With the Steve McQueen-James Garner thriller, The Great Escape headed for enormous popularity, I wonder why there was so much fuss and feathers when they were making the picture last summer in Munich. Just about everything went wrong, and Steve walked out. He is glad he walked back in because this is the last role of his career.

I have to laugh every time I hear that Marlon Brando is on this or that TV or radio show, giving an interview to make friends with the press, etc. He is so contemptuous of the people he is presumably trying to please... It seems incredible that MGM is writing off the $18,000,000 cost to make Marlon's Matinee on the Beverly.

"Elizabeth Taylor's England" television special, will be a little bit squashed won't it? As far as I can see and hear, Liz spends most of her time in England at the Dorchester Hotel, with a visit now and then to a nearby pub. Liz was telling someone that while Richard Burton was in Munich her next project—this one—was for pin money. This is a good pin to pick up $250,000.

Cary Grant sent Audrey Hepburn a new set of matched luggage for her new honeymoon with Mel Ferrer.

With Eddie Fisher busy busing Sybil Burton the other night, some people have been saying, "Wouldn't it be nice if they fell in love?" It could happen although in this case I think most unlikely. It did happen when Lana Turner was dating Fernando Lamas. They had dinner with Lee and Audrey Dahl Barter. Then switched partners. Arlene married Fernando and Lee wed Lana. Worked out badly in both cases.

Least Bart who has a crush on Judy Garland would do a handpring if Judy would consent to star in his next Broadway play, Maggie May. Bart who authored Oliver has Ediz going in London as well.

Berry's Kansas made The Longest Day in three languages. English, French and German over some loud objections of executives—some of whom are no longer at Fox—who said it would never go. The Longest Day is a roaring hit—in all three lingo.

It's a Corroding Emotion

Wife—Beware Jealousy!

Divinity of a Series

Jealousy is a corroding emotion, because it comes from fear. Some emotions are inevitable in every marriage; whatever a woman tells me that she and her husband have never exchanged a cross word, I suspect either that she is lying or that they don't love each other.

But quarrels should be less frequent as time goes on, as the man and woman make adjustments to each other.

In the beginning, arguments, even fights, can be fun, because they are usually motivated by going to bed, leading additional excitement to sex.

After a while, fighting goes sour, especially if a woman chooses to punish her husband by withholding sex, or by silence. I don't see what a wife has to gain by this, particularly if the cause of the argument was—and it is often

I Learned About Women from Them

VIRGIL G. DAMON, MD
and Isabella Taves

is—jealousy of another woman.

It would seem to me that all this would accomplish would be to send her husband looking back for a second look at the woman whom his wife found such a siren.

Men would be suspicious of another man who said, "I don't like men, only women." Yet women as a matter of pride confess that they don't like other women.

I will hear this, accompanied by a coy little smile, "Doctor, this may seem awful of me, but I don't trust another woman in the world, including my mother and my own daughter." Or, chip on shoulder, trying to shock, "If you know what women were really like, you wouldn't like them either."

When girls are growing up, when the competition for dates and husbands is keen, I can understand why women don't trust each other.

But afterwards, not liking other women or finding pleasure in their company seems to me an admission that the woman herself feels inadequate, afraid of competition, real or imaginary.

There are certain women who are so automatically attractive, so warm and winning and vivacious, that men can't keep away from them. This, of course, doesn't mean that a man is going to break up his marriage because he enjoys sitting next to such a woman at dinner.

I can't understand a wife envying such a woman. However, these are usually the ones who get along best with other women. I asked an ex-patient, who is the second wife of a Texas tycoon, what was her secret, how she was so popular not only with his men friends, but with the women who had known his first wife.

She answered partly, "As a girl, no male was 'off limits' to me, no matter how good a friend his girl was to me. As a result, I didn't have many female friends, and those I had didn't trust me."

"After I was married, I realized I would have to change, eyes, voice inflection, or body manipulation.

"When my husband gets out of line and the wife is aware of it, I have always had her confidence because she knows my conduct has never been anything short of ladylike decorum. I had one surgeon's wife tell me bluntly, 'My husband thinks you're so perfect I should hate you, but I like you too much.'"

I think women who don't have women friends and don't enjoy the company of other women are missing a lot.

Glossy Paint Thwarts Super Mice

LONDON (APV)—Britain's ministry of agriculture has found that mice can crawl straight up the side of 10-foot high "mouseproof" walls.

"Our scientists were staggered," said the ministry's pest officer, Dennis Burgess.

One of Britain's biggest food stores had appealed to the government for help against mice whose foraging was costing them thousands of pounds. The company installed steel doors, concrete floors and brick walls around warehouses.

The mice still nibbled relentlessly. Three mice crawled straight up the 10-foot vertical wall. Two others went up six feet, rested and then wiggled to the top.

But the scientists said they found a simple solution. They recommended using two coats of high-gloss paint on all walls.

"Experiments show that they feet cannot grip high-gloss paint," said Burgess. "They fall to the ground and become discouraged."

Life of Adventure Ends

A man whose life history read like an adventure story, Capt. Ernest Jordan, died Friday in Veterans' Hospital. He was 87.

Capt. Jordan sailed with the sealing fleets, was a prospector, coast pilot, guide, and paddle boat skipper. He was a pilot on the B.C. coast from 1919 until he retired in 1941.

Born in Liverpool, England, the son of a seafaring man, Capt. Jordan spent four years aboard the sailing ship Algonquin before settling down to school in Matland, N.S.

At 13 he came to Victoria aboard a sailing ship and joined his four uncles who operated sealing ships from Victoria. He sailed as a hunter with the fleet.

In his 20th year he was second officer aboard St. Dun's, running between Victoria and Skagway. He then turned his attention to skippering a small ship on the Arrow Lake.

He went north and acted alternately as a wood cutter, guide and river pilot, and in 1907 became a river pilot for sternwheelers on the Stikine and Skeena Rivers.

In the First World War he was wounded at Ypres as a member of the Canadian Pioneer Battalion. He returned to the water, after convalescing, as chief officer on river steamers in Mesopotamia and ran a hospital ship.

COASTAL PILOT He rounded off his overseas experience in India and returned to B.C. in 1919. He served with the CPR for some time, then became a coastal pilot, retiring in 1941.

He is survived by his widow, Imogene, 1002 Vancouver; a daughter, Mrs. John Pickford, Vancouver; four grandchildren, two nephews and three nieces.

Funeral services will be held in McCall Bros. Funeral Chapel at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Eskimos Surprise Africans

By EDNA BLAKELY

OTTAWA (CP)—Mary Panegosh, a 23-year-old Eskimo who returned Thursday from a three-month trip to Nigeria and Ghana, says she had to explain many times that she was a Canadian.

Many West Africans thought the Canadian Arctic was a separate country and others thought all Eskimos came from Greenland.

It wasn't only Nigerians and Ghanians who asked questions. Dozens of Canadians working or teaching in Africa who had never met an Eskimo asked questions about the Eskimo way of life.

During her visits to dozens of schools, the vivacious Eskimo found textbooks which referred to Eskimos "the same as here—out of date."

Miss Panegosh said in an interview Friday she found the African food hot but the weather, although about 90 degrees every afternoon, not as hot as she had expected. At home in Pond Inlet, Baffin Island, the temperature often drops to 65 below zero during winter.

She said Africans were surprised to learn Eskimos kept their homes warmer than white people kept theirs.

The children thought Eskimos were only two or three feet high because the doors to snow houses looked that small in pictures they saw.

Canada Snubs Sullivan

TORONTO (CP)—Television star Ed Sullivan, here for the first live production outside the U.S. of his television variety show, said Friday he is amazed no Canadian performer tried to get on the show that will originate from the O'Keefe Centre Sunday.

"It's the darndest thing that ever happened," he said in an interview. "Not a single Canadian agent approached me with Canadian talent for this show."—yes, I read all these little clips. Your columnists ask why—but none of them wrote to me not using Canadian talent about anybody."

Donations Not Enough

TORONTO (CP)—United Church of Canada members, about one-fifth of Canada's population, give only one per cent of their income to pay for church work home and abroad, says treasurer Dr. V. T. Mooney of the United Church Board of Women.

Describing the situation as serious, Dr. Mooney said this given the church an annual budget of about $60,000,000, insufficient to pay for all work it proposes.

Archbishop Michael Ramsey said even if the ideas of Bishop John Robinson were to prevail at the moment, the idea of religion would keep returning to the scene.

Dr. Ramsey said it was significant that Dr. Robinson's book Honest to God advocated a place for the old language of religion.

EAT CAKE, HAVE IT
"He means to want both to eat his cake and to have it," the prime minister in a pamphlet entitled Image Old and New.

Dr. Robinson's book, published earlier this year, has sold 150,000 copies in a paperback edition. The work is an attack on conventional piety and moral attitudes in Christianity.

ATTACKS CONCEPT
Dr. Robinson tried to demolish the popular concept of God, saying he is neither "a daddy in the sky" nor someone who "dressed up" like Santa Claus.

The 43-year-old prelate said the most serious of orthodox was the idea that God dwells somewhere "outside" and "comes down" to earth.

"FOREST" CEDAR SIDING

A new cedar specialty for Beauty Long Life Economy

What is "FOREST" Siding?

A new and attractive type of siding that comes from specially selected cedar logs sawn to bring out all the distinctive character of knots, burls and grain.

How Does "FOREST" compare with other siding?

It has more thickness, greater wood volume to add structural strength to any building. Its snug fitting makes good insulation and its low cost makes it ideal for modest budget home builders or remodelers.

How to finish "FOREST"

"Forest" has a distinctive horizontal shadow line that will enhance the beauty of your home.

If you wish to preserve the natural rustic effect of "Forest" apply a coat of oil filler first, then varnish or shellac. "Forest" siding also takes paint beautifully if you wish a colored finish.

YOU can easily apply "FOREST" Cedar Siding

Many home owners have applied this modern, beautiful "Forest" siding themselves without the slightest difficulty.

B.C.-Ottawa Parley On Columbia 'Soon'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said Friday that undoubtedly there will be discussions soon between the federal and B.C. governments on the Columbia River development.

However, he said following a cabinet meeting, the talks will not necessarily be related to those he will be holding May 10 and 11 with President Kennedy.

In Manitoba Budget

New Tax on Cigarettes

WINNIPEG (CP)—Premier Duff Roblin announced plans Friday for a cigarette tax amounting to four cents for a pack of 20.

The move was outlined in the Progressive Conservative leader's 1963-64 budget in the Manitoba legislature.

Cigars and other tobacco products will be taxed at a "corresponding" rate.

He did not announce a specific reason for the tobacco tax but said "the essential needs of a growing economy demand more revenues to pay for the new and expanded programs which the House has already approved."

The estimates, last of which were approved by the legislature Thursday night, contain big new expenditures for roads, local development, health and welfare and education.

In another part of his speech he said rising costs of Manitoba's hospital insurance plan—$45 per capita in 1963 compared with $31 in 1962—"is the object of legitimate concern to the Manitoba Hospital Commission and the public."

There are "very real and precise limits to the extent that our economy can support the ever-growing costs of social services."

Mr. Roblin, also provincial treasurer, used the budget speech to announce government plans to introduce colored gasoline into the province for tax exemption purposes.

Youth Members Purged by NDP

TORONTO (CP)—Ten members of New Democratic Party youth organizations in the Toronto area have been expelled from the party and the Metro Council at the New Democratic Youth has been dissolved.

The announcement came in a press release from John Wilson, former vice-president of the Metro Council and a member of the NDP and OCF for 10 years before his expulsion.

WITCH HUNT
Mr. Wilson said the expulsions were part of a "witch hunt" against those in the party who favor more public ownership of basic industry and oppose NATO as a military alliance.

He described it as an extension of a similar purge last winter in B.C. which "resulted in the expulsion of a dozen or so leading activists from the youth movement there."

BACKED OPPONENT

Mr. Wilson said he was expelled without a hearing on the "charge of supporting an opponent political party." He said he learned at a meeting of the NDP provincial council at which he appealed the expulsion, that the party was "some kind of youth organization called the Young Socialist Alliance," but he neither confirmed nor denied he was a member.

Nuclear Arms 'Difficult Issue'

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Defence Minister Hellyer said Friday there is a "general feeling" only the U.S. and Russia should be equipped to "contemplate direct confrontation." But he admitted it may be difficult to persuade other NATO countries to agree to reject strategic retaliatory nuclear weapons.

More Pulp Mills Seen for Interior

KELOWNA (CP)—Lands and Forests Minister Williston says there is the possibility of several new pulp mills in the British Columbia Interior.

In a talk to a banquet of the Interior Logging Association he mentioned the planned $50, 000,000 pulp and paper operation at Prince George and the "vast" possibility of another mill at Kamloops.

Then he said without giving details that there is a possibility of four additional mills in the Interior.

The Prince George mill is planned by Canadian Forests Products Ltd. of Vancouver and the International Reed paper group of England.

"When these mills go into production more trucking will be needed," the minister said. "It will be essential to truck the materials needed from this area to fulfill the requirements of these mills and this in turn will bring a secondary industry into the area utilizing forest waste."

Mine Blast

All 22 Bodies Found

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. (UPI)—Weary rescue crews, laboring deep inside a northern West Virginia coal mine Friday, recovered bodies of all 22 victims of Thursday night's gas-triggered explosion.

The last man was found in the same section where 11 other miners had been discovered earlier in the Company No. 2 mine of the Clinchfield Coal Company at Dola, about 13 miles northwest of here.

ALL DUE OUT SOON

Only five of the bodies had been taken out of the mine by late Friday night but the others were expected to be brought outside by about mid-night.

All 22 men were married. They had 41 children.

30 FLEE UNHURT
Thirty of their fellow workers fled unharmed after the blast cut loose.

It was violent.

Clark Robey, a 34-year-old mechanic, said he was knocked off his feet although he was about a mile away from the blast centre.

BLEW ME DOWN

"The explosion came in two or three puffs and the dust started flying," Robey related. "It blew me down, even though I was pretty close to a mile away."

Robey and three other miners raced for the escape mine shaft by which the men are hauled up and down the vertical shaft.

BODIES BLOWN UP

"You could hear rocks hitting the side of the cage where the air was blowing them up the shaft," he said.

About 9 a.m. EST Friday the first bodies were found. The two victims were in a main passageway about 1 1/2 miles from the foot of the mine shaft.

Some 30 minutes later a third body was located farther down the corridor.

MEN SUFFOCATED

The bodies of the first victims were brought to the surface in a mine car. Officials said they believe the men suffocated. There was no evidence of fire. Rescue crews wearing gas masks then came upon 11 more bodies in rapid succession.

It was the worst disaster in West Virginia's sprawling mine fields since 22 men died in a similar accident in McDowell County, in southern West Virginia, on Oct. 27, 1956.

About 15 miles northeast at Monongah, 361 miners died Dec. 6, 1967, in the worst mine disaster in the United States.

Veiled Defence of U.S.

Laos Premier Assails Reds

VIENTIANE (AP)—Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma has assailed pro-Communist tactics as jeopardizing the future of Laos and made what appeared to be a defence of the United States. Souvanna, a neutralist, spoke out Friday as U.S. warships were reported in Southeast Asian waters ready for possible action in the Laotian crisis.

Europe

Fewer Trigger Fingers

PARIS (Reuters)—The defence committee of the Western European Union Parliament Friday proposed creating of a NATO nuclear force with a limited number of fingers on the trigger.

After two days of closed-door discussion the committee—made up of legislators from Britain and the six European Common Market countries—proposed the idea in a series of recommendations to the full Parliament at its Paris meeting in June.

NUCLEAR COUNCIL

The committee said political control of the nuclear force should rest with a nuclear council on which all 15 NATO nations would be represented.

But the decision to open fire would be the responsibility of a "most restricted executive body" appointed by the nuclear council and agreed to by the participating countries.

TWO ELEMENTS

The committee proposed a NATO strategic force be formed both from national elements of existing nuclear powers and of multilateral or mixed—manned elements.

The committee said this strategic force should be created in several phases.

Frigate Wheel Stolen

Somebody stole HMCS Sassafras' steering wheel yesterday and the Royal Canadian Navy thinks it was a prank.

Navy divers searched for the wheel without luck. RCMP was called in to assist navy investigators and the frigate's skipper, Cmdr. A.N. Turner, ordered the crew confined on board for the duration of the questioning—several hours.

The Sassafras was due to sail for a routine exercise today. "She will sail on time," a navy spokesman said last night.

"There is no clue yet," he said. "The navy feels it may have been a prank."

Garden Magic!

"As if by magic" is way M. V. Chouet, garden columnist of The Daily Colonist, describes the way he obtained seeds for his third free offer. This time Mr. Chouet is giving away free seeds for Star of the Valley, daisy-like flowers of South Africa. The offer is made in Sunday's edition.

The first offer was a new marigold, Piffner's Hybrid, and the second was a colorful California poppy called Mission Bell.

Havana to Protest

BOMB RAID BLAMED ON U.S.

MIAMI (UPI)—The Cuban Radio blamed the United States Friday for an air attack on the outskirts of Havana and said the plane "took off from U.S. territory and returned home with absolute impunity."

The monitored radio broadcast confirmed the report of a free lance reporter-photographer in Washington that he accompanied three unidentified men on the raid Thursday night.

The broadcast said the Fidel Castro government planned a diplomatic protest of the attack.

"The U.S. government cannot evade its responsibility for this action," the broadcast said.

NO STATEMENT

It said the Cuban government "denounces" the fact that a report of the attack at a press conference "in the U.S. capital itself" failed to bring any statement from the U.S. government.

The state department had taken a skeptical view of the report of the raid by reporter-photographer Alexander Herkes, who said two other Americans and a Cuban were in the twin-engine plane when it dropped explosives aimed at oil refineries on the outskirts of Havana.

BOMBS FAILED

Both Herkes and the radio report from Cuba said the attack failed to do any serious damage and that the bombs dropped failed to explode.

"Immediately afterward, the plane headed in the same direction from which it came," the Cuban radio said.

It called the raid a "criminal action," and said it demonstrated that the "published and announced attitudes of the U.S. government apparently aimed at restricting the activities of the counter-revolutionary pirates are being defied in an inexplicable manner."

AGAINST PIRATES

"If the U.S. government wants world public opinion to seriously believe its announcements against the pirates, it will have to adopt measures to prevent events such as which occurred last night," the Cuban broadcast said.

New Nose Cone Fired by Atlas

Touring Russia

Cuban Premier Castro arrived in Murensk Friday to begin a visit to Soviet Union. Castro was greeted by first deputy premier Anastas Mikoyan. Premier Khrushchev, who invited Castro to Russia was not on hand.

Cubans Pester U.S. Cutter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two Cuban gunboats dashed back and forth across the bow of a U.S. Coast Guard cutter in the Florida Straits Friday and U.S. jet fighters were rushed to the scene, the defence department announced. It said there was no shooting.

The Coast Guard cutter, designated ship No. 6534, was about 30 miles northwest of Havana investigating a report that a small boat was in distress with five persons aboard. It found an empty and drifting boat. The incident was in international waters. The Pentagon issued this statement. "Shortly after 2 p.m., this afternoon, two Cuban gunboats engaged in manoeuvres near a United States Coast Guard cutter 30 miles northwest of Havana. The cutter reported the event and two F4U aircraft were scrambled from Key West. When the aircraft reached the scene, the manoeuvres were discontinued."

In B.C. Saddle

Fulton Puts Tories On Campaign Basis

VANCOUVER (CP)—The federal election over, Davis Fulton has started off on another campaign.

"The party is going on a campaign basis now," the leader of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Party and former justice and public works minister said Friday.

The man who deliberately chose to lead a party that has not been represented in the legislature for years said his executive would complete plans today for provincial organization.

He said the party plans to have candidates nominated for the next provincial election in all 52 constituencies within a year and at least 27 candidates in the next six months.

UNTIL DEATH
By June 1 it was planned to have between six and 10 candidates named, including one in Columbia, represented by Social Credit Orr Newton until his death this year.

Mr. Fulton, who will not run in Columbia himself, said a by-election should be called before the next session of the legislature.

Asked why he would not run in Columbia, probably the first opportunity for him to gain a seat in the legislature, Mr. Fulton said:

HAS DECIDED
"My job is to organize the party to get it ready for the next general election."

He said he has decided on which constituency he wishes to represent but will make no announcement until he visits the area.

'Cat' Hunt Backfires

PARIS (UPI)—A policeman, a civilian and a police dog were wounded Friday night when a gendarme tripped and accidentally fired his automatic rifle during a search for a "ferocious" escaped circus panther.

But Pierre the Panther has accounted for only one wounded himself in 15 hours of freedom. He attacked an Algerian worker.

Dealer's 200,000 Books Piled High in Streets

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (UPI)—The state asked book dealer John Lindmark to move his 200,000 volume collection and make way for a highway, but he refused. So the state is doing the job for him.

The task of moving the books, valued by Lindmark at $3,000,000, is expected to take 15 men 10 days. When they are finished the books will be stacked three feet high along three blocks of this Dutchess County city about 75 miles north of New York.

"Lindmark was served with an eviction notice two weeks ago," city marshal Herman Soloway said Thursday. "He refused to do anything so we began removing the books."

The controversy began three years ago when New York State set plans for a new north-south arterial here. State officials said they had trouble negotiating with Lindmark and the case finally was settled in the courts. The eviction notice was signed a year ago but held up while officials tried to convince Lindmark to move. The book dealer claimed he could not afford to move the books and had no place to move them.

"We're piling the books into the scoop of a bulldozer and taking them outside," Soloway said. "We've built stalls about three feet high along the sidewalk so they can be stacked. But Lindmark apparently doesn't plan to do anything about them." The city marshal said some people have been sneaking off with the books.

"When I leave at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, they're all his responsibility," he said. "The police are maintaining their regular patrols but nothing else. If it rains, and it sure looks like it, all those books are going to be ruined."

Lindmark said he heard people were taking the books. "But I can't do anything about it," he said. "It's the state's problem. I'm not going to sell them."

Chile Court Bars Nazi's Deportation

SANTIAGO (AP)—Chile's Supreme Court Friday barred deportation of a former Nazi SS colonel, Walter Raut, 58, to West Germany to face charges that he ordered 87,000 Jews gassed during the Second World War. The court split five to two in the ruling, with the majority holding that the crimes imputed to Raut were committed more than 20 years ago and Chilean law sets a 15-year limitation on crimes punishable by death or life imprisonment.

Raut is free to stay in Chile.

Training and Education Needed for Unemployed

PORT ALBERT—Everyone should take a new, unrealistic look at the unemployment situation, a member of Alberta Valley winter works committee said at the regular meeting.

John Mitchell was emphasizing the need to provide training and education for unemployed employees.

He said some employers are unrealistic in their demands for educational standards and spoke in support of trades tests which, he said, would dignify the trades.

SCHOOLROOM NEED

It was decided to pursue a suggestion a schoolroom be acquired along with a teacher to supervise correspondence courses, for those unemployed wishing to raise their grades.

Jim Speedie said 72 per cent of unemployed in Canada have had grade 8 or less education.

VALUE OF TESTS

The value of aptitude tests in a plan for up-grading and training was discussed, and the committee was instructed to inquire into the possibility of having a travelling unit established.

President Fred King said he deplored the lack of interest apparent in the fact few community organizations had representation on the winter employment committee.

Errington Festival

Original Play 'Profound Idea'

ERRINGTON—Two plays were presented on the second night of the north island one-act play festival, with Dorothy Goldrick adjudicating.

The first, Still Stands the House, by the Little Mountain Theatre Club, was a very good production, Mrs. Goldrick said. She praised the interpretation of the author's intent, and felt the cast played with vitality and sincerity, conveying the feeling they were the characters themselves, not just acting.

The set, costumes and sound effects she found particularly good, with cues slow at times, and the occasional line missing. Director was Mary Hawkes. In the cast were Ruby Lang, Sue Ward, and Gerry Van Horne.

An original play The Incident, written and directed by Pat O'Neill, was presented by Courtenay Little Theatre as the second play of the evening.

Mrs. Goldrick termed it "a play with a profound idea and with a most interesting and imaginative set." Team work was excellent and the whole production extremely interesting, she said.

In the cast were Pat O'Neill, May Magee, Lorraine Magee and Pam O'Neill.

Albert Players who were to have presented Sganarelle were unable to appear, but the gap in the program was filled by young Joanne Finnegan and Clarence Lang, who had won honors in the recent music festival at Nanaimo; by Joyce Barr, comedienne; Walter Thomas, singer; and Pam and Pat O'Neill who gave an excerpt from Macbeth.

The festival will close tonight with honor performance.

Health Hazard Seen

DUNCAN—Certain conditions at the Cowichan Indian reserve were termed a health menace, and the Indian health committee under Ross Modeste will approach the band council asking for sanitation bylaws.

At a recent meeting of the health committee it was noted not all band members take part in the annual cleanup campaign but most were co-operating. The Indian school children were praised for their efforts in the present campaign and the best will be awarded with a party.

DUNCAN—Mrs. Athelstan Day will open today's annual Cowichan friendship bazaar to be held upstairs in the Whittemore Building at 10 a.m., sponsored by 16 women's organizations for the second consecutive year.

In keeping with the pioneer theme, bazaar helpers will wear "Gay 90s" costumes. Some of the stalls will carry garden plants, cut flowers, produce, fancy work, needle work and home cooking. The tombola prize is a mother-daughter or father-son Cowichan Indian sweater set.

One of the bazaar's highlights will be a display of carvings by Quinches Indian Simon Charlie.

DUNCAN—This weekend Cowichan Valley will be the target of a friendly invasion led by Dr. Katherine Benzschaw of the UBC Department of Botany and Botany. Dr. Benzschaw is delighted with the mass of wild flowers in this area which will be studied under her direction by members of the Vancouver Natural History Society.

DUNCAN—Fourteen teams of service "teamsters" will vie for top honors at Bessborough Armours here this afternoon for supremacy in the Strathcona trust tri-services drive and competition.

Taking part in the competition will be six teams of the RCAF, six army and two navy. All will be from the lower mainland except one team from Port Alberni, representing the army.

Tests will be held in fractures, wounds, fire hazards, artificial respiration and vehicle accidents. Completing the competition will be a stretcher race.

Campbell River may be serviced by Vancouver Island Helicopter service if the air transport board approves an application made by the Victoria based firm.

Recreation Group Seeks Trustee Aid

COURTENAY—The help of school trustees is being sought by a recreation study group headed by W. G. Lamb.

The group was recently set up as an independent body, representing community groups to study recreation facilities and potentials of the area.

The school board is studying a request to have ques-

Long Beach Park Better—Westwood

Development plans for Garibaldi Park, north of Vancouver, are held by both the federal and provincial governments. Recreation Minister Westwood said yesterday.

But, he suggested, federal efforts would be more useful if directed toward creating a new marine park, possibly Long Beach on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

"We already have four mountain federal parks in B.C.," he said. Garibaldi Park is a provincial development.

TAKE OVER PARK

New federal minister of resources Arthur Lewis recently suggested Ottawa might take over Garibaldi Park and spend up to $10,000,000 there.

Mr. Westwood said the provincial government has "something" to announce about Garibaldi Park in the next few months but would not elaborate.

In the past B.C. has rejected federal attempts to take over Garibaldi.

'Canada, U.S. Shouldn't Join'

DUNCAN—Why don't they join us, they have everything to gain, is the attitude of Americans toward Canadians, an American told the Duncan Kiwanis Club recently.

He is Sam Palmer, music teacher at the Cowichan Senior Secondary School.

The two countries should not be united, but should it happen, "I would be looking over to Australia," he said.

The main cause of the American ignorance of Canada is rooted in the fact U.S. youngsters are not taught Canadian history beyond Grade 8, Mr.

Palmer said. He said he is afraid of too much American domination of the Canadian economy, and in his opinion the controlling interest must be kept in the hands of Canadian stockholders.

He maintained the main reason for American capital investment in Canada is security, unlike Cuba where the danger of confiscation exists.

Mr. Palmer said the Americans feel Canada is too soft on Communism and cited the wheat sales to Red China.

In his opinion Canada should aim at the South American market where the population is expected to soar to the 500,000,000 mark. Mr. Palmer said a good medium toward better understanding between Canada and the U.S. is tourism.

and oratorio winner, Marion Matcham is at far right. Sole male competitor was Allan Husband who had won both male oratorio and operatic classes earlier in week.

Rose Bowl Goes To Merna Jenkin

By BERT BINNY

The days of increasing speculation and even outright predictions as to who might win the top singing award in the Music Festival ended last night.

Soprano Merna Jenkin was declared winner of the B.C. Electric Rose Bowl by adjudicator Dr. Sydney Northcott.

after close competition of a very high standard from three other singers.

Miss Jenkin, actually a veteran of performances on a Young Artists' tour a year or so back, gained the adjudicator's nod over mezzo-soprano Pamela Paver who had previously won the operatic class, Marion Matcham, successful Thursday evening in the female oratorio competition, and Allan Husband, who took both the operatic and oratorio classes in the male division.

There was a very large audience at Central Junior High school auditorium for the honor concert which concluded with the Rose Bowl competition.

This was the only competitive event. Unfortunately no pianist qualified this year for the City of Victoria Medallion. Nevertheless, enthusiastic response greeted all the items selected from classes heard during the past week.

percentage of the money being spent on education. Prior to 1963, the allotment for book buying was one dollar per pupil. This has now risen to $2.50 per pupil.

Mr. Brown said improvement of standards refers to the board's plan to bring the number of books in school libraries up to a level of at least six books per student.

He said this money would also be used to catalogue books now in school libraries so that students would get maximum benefit from the supply now at their disposal.

SIMPLE METHOD

"The board has adopted a simple method of cataloguing which precludes any knowledge of complicated library systems and makes the hiring of librarians unnecessary," said Mr. Brown.

"We are also getting rid of obsolete books," he said. "Two members of the board go to the schools ahead of the team of four cataloguers to get rid of out-of-date books. No encyclopedia more than 10 years old will be kept."

He said the purchase of books has taken an ever higher

Ride in a Tokyo Taxicab Hair-Raising

Flying in a jetliner is wonderful but riding in a Tokyo taxi is a hair-raising experience, says Ed Lohbrunner, husband of King Fisherman winner Mrs. Ethel Lohbrunner, just back from a Japan trip by Canadian Pacific Airlines.

"Those cab drivers dodge traffic with not more than half an inch to spare—it's incredible how skilful they are, and you see fewer dented fenders than here in Canada," Mr. Lohbrunner said.

The Lohbrunners have just returned from their four-week, adventure-filled King Fisherman trip to Japan after Canadian Pacific Airlines DC8 jetliners whispered them across the Pacific and back again, and the New Orient Express travel agency acquired them around Japan.

"(This year's King Fisherman Contest, which is now under way, offers a Canadian Pacific Airlines trip to Europe for the grand hidden weight winner and partner.)"

"We felt as if we were floating over a big, level featherbed. It is like fairyland at 39,000 feet altitude," Mr. Lohbrunner said.

"The whole flight was pretty fantastic. There's no vibration. We had a Chinese-Canadian stewardess looking after us on the way to Japan, and a Japanese-Canadian stewardess on the way back—they were wonderful."

"There's not much more noise in the jet than our fridge at home makes," Mrs. Lohbrunner said. "What struck me was how little snow there was on the Aleutians."

As for Japan, Mr. Lohbrunner was filled with superlatives.

"They can make a garden out of anything," said the keen gardener who runs Lakeview Gardens on Lohbrunner Road.

Set Clocks Ahead Tonight

Tonight is the night least loved in all the year by celebrants who like to sleep in off and preachers who like to start their sermons on time.

Daylight saving time begins early Sunday morning.

That means that when you go to bed tonight, you must set your clock

AHEAD one hour—and lose one hour of wonderful, comforting, soothing, blissful sleep.

But in return for your lost hour's sleep tonight, you get an extra hour of sunlight every evening all summer.

And there's at least one thing you don't have to worry about. B.C. government ferries operate on the time generally in effect and will set their clocks ahead one hour along with everyone else.

Ferry schedules, in other words, remain absolutely unchanged in terms of local times. Changes in summer schedules, incidentally, will be May 17.

Ferry Given Clean Bill

Fears of Gulf Island residents about the seaworthiness of the ferry Cy Peck are groundless, senior steamship inspection officer of the department of transport, H. L. Elliott, said yesterday.

"She is very definitely seaworthy—otherwise she would not be operating," he said.

"Her design is to the satisfaction of the department, otherwise she would not have a certificate approving her as a vehicle and passenger ferry."

The Cy Peck is inspected each year before a certificate is issued, Mr. Elliott said.

"The ship's certificate expires May 15 when she will come in for a full inspection."

Commenting on a suggestion that the ship does not meet specifications laid down for a passenger ferry, Mr. Elliott said the Cy Peck was built in Tacoma, Wash., in 1913, and was considered an "existing ship" where regulations were concerned.

During June and July, the plant will be closed down completely to pass the fingerlings at night and to permit mature salmon, which travel mainly in daylight hours, to move upstream to the spawning beds.

CLOSED AT NIGHT

A B.C. Hydro spokesman said the plant would be shut down from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. until the end of May to permit fingerlings, which travel mainly at night, to pass the plant safely on the way to the ocean.

The agreement is in effect immediately and lasts until June 30, 1964.

In August, the plant will be closed from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The B.C. Hydro spokesman said movement of the fingerlings will have tapered off by then and the daylight closure will permit the remainder of the mature salmon to complete their journey to the spawning grounds.

Movement of the fish past the Puntledge plant will be observed by fisheries department representatives.

VANCOUVER (CP) —

The B.C. Hydro and Power Authority announced Friday an interim agreement has been reached with the federal fisheries department calling for the Puntledge River power plant near Courtenay to be shut down when fish are passing upstream and downstream between spawning beds and the sea.

The agreement is in effect immediately and lasts until June 30, 1964.

Smeared

NANAIMO — Members of the Nanaimo Harbor Commission spent a busy night cleaning up the harbor after a boat discharged oil Friday.

Harbormaster J. Dunham said charges against the boat owner will probably be laid later today.

The offending vessel, an old C1 park boat, discharged the oil near the assembly dock. The oil spread over the harbor and out toward the log booms.

Mr. Dunham and his men spent the night spraying the harbor with a special chemical to break up the oil. He said the cleanup job will take all weekend.

The oil kills crabs and birds, smears boats, damages good logs and ruins cork boots, Mr. Dunham said.

Tugs Fail To Free Fishboat

NANAIMO—Tugs failed to free a Vancouver fishing boat from rocks off Protection Island Friday night.

The 35-foot Sea Fire, owned by Gordon Fyke, of South Burnaby, ran aground early Friday. Four men on board were brought to shore by a lighthouse keeper.

Police carried out a search for the four men following reports that a considerable amount of gear was unloaded from the vessel.

The Sea Fire was not badly damaged and a second attempt to refloat will be made at 17 p.m.

Strike

Averted

NANAIMO—The threat of a printers' strike at the Nanaimo Free Press was averted Friday afternoon.

The 18 printers, members of the International Typographical Union, Local 337, earlier this week told Free Press publisher William J. Lupton they would strike on Monday morning unless some action was taken on their demands for a 21-cent an hour increase over a three-year period.

Friday, printers and publishers met, and after a 2½-hour meeting Howie Carruthers, of the union negotiating committee announced the strike had been postponed on the basis of a 19-cent an hour increase over a three-year period.

The offer is for an increase of six cents for the first year, seven cents for the second year and six cents for the third year. Mr. Lupton's offer also calls for three weeks holiday per year for printers with nine years' service. At present, 10 years is required.

TO VOTE ON OFFER

Mr. Carruthers said the members of Local 337 executive decided at the meeting that the strike be postponed. The offer must now be put before the full Local 337 meeting for ratification.

Local 337 has a total of about 50 members working in Port Alberni, Campbell River, Courtenay, Ladysmith, and Duncan.

There will be no strike prior to the union meeting, which will probably be called next month, and the Free Press printers feel there will be no strike after it.

Mr. Lupton is reported as having told the printers his offer was as far as he could possibly go.

Mr. Carruthers said that the losing of two cents on the demands appears to have been accepted by the local printers.

"But we certainly would have gone out on the streets if we couldn't get anything better than the 16 cents offered us," he added.

The increase would be retroactive to Oct. 1, 1962, when the union contract was due for renewal.

Mine Blast

All 22 Bodies Found

CLARKSBURG, W.Va. (AP)—Wary rescue crews, laboring deep inside a northern West Virginia coal mine Friday, recovered bodies of all 22 victims of Thursday night's gas-triggered explosion.

The last man was found in the same section where 11 other miners had been discovered earlier in the Company No. 2 mine of the Clinchfield Coal Company at Dola, about 12 miles northwest of here.

ALL DUE OUT SOON

Only five of the bodies had been taken out of the mine by late Friday night but the others were expected to be brought outside by about mid night.

All 22 men were married. They had 61 children.

NO FLEE UNHURT

Thirty of their fellow workers fled unharmed after the blast cut loose.

It was violent.

Clark Robey, a 54-year-old mechanic, said he was knocked off his feet although he was about a mile away from the blast centre.

BLEW ME DOWN

"The explosion came in two or three puffs and the dust started flying," Robey related. "It blew me down, even though I was pretty close to a mile away."

Robey and three other miners raced for the cage—the elevator by which the men are hoisted up and down the vertical shaft.

ROCKS BLOWN UP

"You could hear rocks hitting the side of the cage where the air was blowing them up the shaft," he said.

About 9 a.m. EST Friday the first bodies were found. The two victims were in a main passageway about 14 miles from the foot of the mine shaft.

Some 30 minutes later a third body was located farther down the corridor.

MEN SUFFOCATED

The bodies of the first victims were brought to the surface on a mine car. Officials said they believe the men suffocated. There was no evidence of fire. Rescue crews wearing gas masks then came upon 11 more bodies in rapid succession.

It was the worst disaster in West Virginia's sprawling mine fields since 23 men died in a similar accident in McDowell County, in southern West Virginia, on Oct. 27, 1958.

About 15 miles northeast at Monongah, 381 miners died Dec. 6, 1967, in the worst mine disaster in the United States.

Europe:

Fewer Trigger Fingers

PARIS (Reuters)—The defence committee of the Western European Union Parliament Friday proposed creating of a NATO nuclear force with a limited number of fingers on the trigger.

After two days of closed-door discussion the committee—made up of legislators from Britain and the six European Common Market countries—proposed the idea in a series of recommendations to the full Parliament at its Paris meeting in June.

NUCLEAR COUNCIL

The committee said political control of the nuclear force should rest with a nuclear council on which all 15 NATO nations would be represented.

But the decision to open fire would be the responsibility of a "most restricted executive body" appointed by the nuclear council and agreed to by the participating countries.

TWO ELEMENTS

The committee proposed a NATO strategic force be formed both from national elements of existing nuclear powers and of multilateral or mixed-manned elements.

The committee said this strategic force should be created in several phases.

U.S. BLAMED FOR ATTACK BY AIR

Touring Russia

Cuban Premier Castro arrived in Murmansk Friday to begin a visit to Soviet Union.

MIAMI (UPI)—The Cuban Radio blamed the United States Friday for an air attack on the outskirts of Havana and said the plane "took off from U.S. territory and returned home with absolute impunity."

The monitored radio broadcast confirmed the report of a free lance reporter-photographer in Washington that he accompanied three unidentified men on the raid Thursday night.

The broadcast said the Fidel Castro government planned a diplomatic protest of the attack.

"The U.S. government cannot evade its responsibility for this action," the broadcast said.

It said the Cuban government "denounces" the fact that a report of the attack at a press conference "in the U.S. capital itself" failed to bring any statement from the U.S. government.

The state department had taken a skeptical view of the report of the raid by reporter-photographer Alexander Rorke, who said two other Americans and a Cuban were in the twin-engine plane when it dropped explosives aimed at oil refineries on the outskirts of Havana.

BOMBS FAILED

Both Rorke and the radio report from Cuba said the attack failed to do any serious damage and that the bombs dropped failed to explode.

"Immediately afterward, the plane headed in the same direction from which it came," the Cuban radio said.

It called the raid a "criminal action," and said it demonstrated that the "published and announced attitudes of the U.S. government apparently aimed at restricting the activities of the counter-revolutionary pirates are being defied in an inexplicable manner."

AGAINST PIRATES

"If the U.S. government wants world public opinion to seriously believe its announcements against the pirates, it will have to adopt measures to prevent events such as which occurred last night," the Cuban broadcast said.

Wheel Stolen

Somebody stole HMCS Sussex's steering wheel yesterday and the Royal Canadian Navy thinks it was a prank.

Navy divers searched for the wheel without luck. RCMP was called in to assist navy investigations and the frigate's skipper, Cmdr. A. N. Turner, ordered the crew confined on board for the duration of the questioning—several hours.

The Sussex was due to sail for a routine exercise today. "She will sail on time," a navy spokesman said last night.

Cubans Pester U.S. Cutter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two Cuban gunboats dashed back and forth across the bow of a U.S. Coast Guard cutter in the Florida Straits Friday and U.S. jet fighters were rushed to the scene, the defence department announced. It said there was no shooting.

The Coast Guard cutter, designated ship No. 15314, was about 30 miles northeast of Havana investigating a report that a small boat was in distress with five persons aboard. It found an empty and drifting boat.

The incident was in international waters.

Two Pentagon issued this statement.

"Shortly after 2 p.m., this afternoon, two Cuban gunboats engaged in manoeuvres near a United States Coast Guard cutter 30 miles northeast of Havana. The cutter reported the event and two F4U aircraft were scrambled from Key West. When the aircraft reached the scene, the manoeuvres were discontinued."

Fulton Puts Tories On Campaign Basis

VANCOUVER (CP)—The federal election over, Davis Fulton has started off on another campaign.

"The party is going on a campaign basis now," the leader of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Party and former justice and public works minister said Friday.

The man who deliberately chose to lead a party that has not been represented in the legislature for years said his executive would complete plans today for provincial organization.

He said the party plans to have candidates nominated for the next provincial election in all 32 constituencies within a year and at least 27 candidates in the next six months.

By June 1 it was planned to have between six and 10 candidates named, including one in Columbia, represented by Social Creditor Orr Newton until his death this year.

Mr. Fulton, who will not run in Columbia himself, said a by-election should be called before the next session of the legislature.

Asked why he would not run in Columbia, probably the first opportunity for him to gain a seat in the legislature, Mr. Fulton said:

"My job is to organize the party to get it ready for the next general election."

He said he has decided on which constituency he wishes to represent but will make no announcement until he visits the area.

Kings Aweigh!

But only Columbia residents may win the big merchandise prizes. Complete list of weigh-in winners appears on Page 5.

Dealer's 200,000 Books Piled High in Streets

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (UPI)—The state asked book dealer John Lindmark to move his 200,000 volume collection and make way for a highway, but he refused. So the state is doing the job for him.

The task of moving the books, valued by Lindmark at $3,000,000, is expected to take 15 men 10 days. When they are finished the books will be stacked three feet high along three blocks of this Dutchess County city about 75 miles north of New York.

"Lindmark was served with an eviction notice two weeks ago," city marshal Herman Soloway said Thursday. "He refused to do anything so we began removing the books."

The controversy began three years ago when New York State set plans for a new north-south arterial here. State officials said they had trouble negotiating with Lindmark and the case finally was settled in the courts.

The eviction notice was signed a year ago but held up while officials tried to convince Lindmark to move.

The book dealer claimed he could not afford to move the books and had no place to move them.

"We're piling the books into the scoop of a bulldozer and taking them outside," Soloway said. "We've built stalls about three feet high along the sidewalk so they can be stacked. But Lindmark apparently doesn't plan to do anything about them."

The city marshal said some people have been sneaking off with the books.

"When I leave at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, they're all his responsibility," he said.

"The police are maintaining their regular patrols but nothing else. If it rains, and it sure looks like it, all those books are going to be ruined."

Lindmark said he heard people were taking the books.

"But I can't do anything about it," he said. "It's the state's problem. I'm not going to sell them."

Two of 23 Killed As Fishboat Sinks

MIAMI—The 36-foot fishing boat Jerry Mar with at least 23 persons aboard struck a shoal and sank off Bimini in the Bahamas Islands, the Coast Guard said today.

At least two persons were rescued and three private boats were searching for other possible survivors in the Russian leader again pledged Soviet support for the peace and neutrality of Laos. But Soviet news organs continued to carry charges that the U.S. provoked the Laotian crisis.

EXPRESS ANXIETY

In Raengon, President Liu Shao-chi of Communist China joined Burmese leader Gen. Ne Win in a communique expressing "anxiety over the present situation in Laos." Liu is on a goodwill visit to Burma, bordering on northwestern Laos.

Charges that the U.S. is to blame for the Laotian crisis came from Red China, the Soviet Union, Communist North Viet Nam and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao faction of the Laotian government. The Pathet Lao is headed by Prince Souphanouvong, Souvanna's half-brother and a deputy premier.

BLAMES COMMUNISTS

Responding to them, Souvanna said in effect that the Communists themselves sought to disrupt Laos' neutrality and cast doubt on his impartiality.

He denied any foreign troops had joined forces with neutralist units of Gen. Kong Le on the embattled Plain des Jarres of east-central Laos.

Later, the coalition cabinet sanctioned Souvanna's denunciation of the charges.

In his apparent veiled defence of the U.S. against Red charges,

Souvanna also referred to foreign and given to Laos with no political strings attached and criticized Communist attempts to make it appear that the help was military in nature.

Souvanna was obviously referring to U.S. shipments of food to rightists as well as neutralists. The Communists have charged that the aid violated the Geneva agreement of last July.

POWERS SHELLED

Trouble stirred again on the Plain des Jarres, the small strategic plateau 110 miles north of Vientiane. Pathet Lao forces shelled neutralist forces there for nine hours Thursday but made no effort to advance.

Souvanna is to fly today to the plain to resume cease-fire talks with Pathet Lao leaders.
